ORGANIZATIONAL SUMMARY OTC, Inc. (formerly known as Ohio Technology Clearinghouse, Incorporated) is a business built from a rich family legacy, founded by Thomas Bennett in 1986 after leaving the Air Force. Tyler Bennett stepped up into the President's role in 2011 and has been instrumental in managing its people and partners. Going from working inside of and learning every area of the business to leading the company, Mr. Bennett's daughter, Kimberly Byrge, stepped into the role of CEO and majority owner in 2020. Mrs. Byrge is proudly working on taking OTC, Inc. to new heights. Maintaining OTC's history and reputation of excellence, collaboration, and initiative are the core values still practiced to this day.

DIFFERENTIATORS OTC, Inc. is a woman-owned small business earning a reputation of solving complex technical and management, programmatic, acquisition, and logistics challenges posed by today's evolving technologies into warrior-ready, operational capability. More than that, we are experts in exceeding expectations. We do this by assisting in solving ROOT ISSUES while we are inside fulfilling our clients' needs, always bringing added value to the table.
